

NJ's "Do Not Call List" offers the best protection to all residents against unsolicited sales & marketing calls. It would be against the public interest to have this law modified in any way, shape or form. This law has already proven itself to be extremely effective at protecting our private time. Our US courts have long established precedence that allow state laws to surpass federal ones, if they provide more benefits to the citizens of that state. Minimum wage laws are a prime example of this doctrine. Our "Do Not Call Law" should be allowed the same right to provide our state citizens a greater benefit than the one enacted in Washington.
